February 3rd, 2020

To Our Valued Customer:

At the beginning of 2020, the outbreak of the coronavirus started in Wuhan, Hubei Province. It has tugged on the heartstrings of people all over the country. The country, enterprises and people are facing tremendous difficulties. Now is a critical period of epidemic prevention and control and GigaDevice fully complies with the related regulations of government.

As of now, GigaDevice is operating as normal. Currently, the company has more than 30 suppliers and none of which is located in Wuhan or other regions of Hubei Province. We keep close communication with our supply chain partners to make sure our production is proceeding as planned. During this special period, if you have any concerns or business changes, please communicate with us in advance through mobile phone, email, or WeChat.

GigaDevice pays a tribute to the people who are fighting against the coronavirus. We wish you have a safe and healthy Chinese New Year.

GigaDevice Semiconductor (Beijing) Inc.